Surrender myself to Him

Because He loves me first

Because He surrendered Himself for me

Because He calls me to follow Him

And I do not want to run away

Surrender myself to Him

Not for death but for life

Not to suffer but to open myself up

To no longer live for appearances

To receive my being from Him

Surrender myself to Him

Because He is good, Goodness

Because I have experienced this goodness

Because my horizons broaden

Whenever I say yes to his call

Surrender myself to Him

A gentle tearing away

A true antidote to all fear

Letting go and welcoming

Humility versus pride

Surrender myself to Him

Not by force or willpower

But by grace, asked for and given

A small step repeated a thousand times

Path of faith, path towards You

Surrender myself to You
